OVER 300 ATTEND H-DAY

More than 300 alumni and guests provided the smiles and laughter that keynoted the 1958 Spring Homecoming Day. The "Flying Petrels" found classmates and friends aplenty with whom they could swap experiences and fond memories.

From the moment the first two alumni arrived on the campus, reunions began and they continued through the day to the last refrains of the orchestra at Peachtree Gardens.

The eleven-man Petrel baseball squad put on a gallant fight against the West Georgia nine before succumbing in extra innings, 11-9.

Short meetings were held by the OABC and NAAOU in which the 1958-59 officers were elected and Virgil Milton '30, Oglethorpe University trustee, gave an encouraging fieldhouse progress report.

Undoubtedly, the climax of the Day was the smorgasbord dinner served outdoors between Phoebe Hearst Hall and Goodman Hall.

The 1958 Homecoming was hands-down the biggest and best in recent years.

Less than half of the alumni present signed the guest books. As a result we have a record of attendance of only the 104 Petrels listed below:

Class

- '20: Sidney Holderness
- '25: Milledge Brower
Judge Thomas L. Camp
- '27: Harry Banister
A. D. "Fish" Herring

1958-1959 Alumni Plans

The Oglethorpe Alumni Executive Committee has outlined its alumni activities for the year '58-'59, announced President Creighton I. Perry '37. The projected program shows careful consideration and has been planned with the alumni in mind. The committees for carrying out the program have also been appointed for the year.

The Finance Committee, under the chairmanship of Jim Hinson '49, and including Betty Villegas '49 and Bill Perkins '29, will give final approval to all solicitation campaigns, recommend expenditures for approval by the executive board at regular meetings and have authority to make expenditures up to $25.00 (each item) between meetings in emergencies.

Steve Schmidt '40, aided by Tommie Carper '37 and Marvin Lawson '58, will head the Membership and Organization Committee. This committee's duties will be to arrange appeals thru The Flying Petrel and by mail to increase alumni membership, complete compilation of all the class rosters, supervise office work of checking year-books and alumni files. This committee will also choose and help qualified prospects from each class to serve as corresponding secretaries. In addition, they will elect one person as an executive secretary for each five year group.

The Activities and Special Events committee chairman Howard Thranhardt '38, working with Amaryllis Barnes '39 and Marshall Asher '40, will make arrangements for the dinner-dance on October 24, plan with the Booster Club for the winter basketball homecoming, organize spring Alumni Day festivities, plan and supervise the publicity for local newspapers and The Flying Petrel and make recommendations for any additional activities desired.

Creighton Perry '37 has been re-elected president of the NAAOU for the year 1958-59. Under his leadership the association has assumed its rightful, dynamic role in Oglethorpe affairs.

The past year found more members contacting personally with other members than ever before. Aggressive action was taken by the executive committee in groups and individually, to support the field house program. The first dinner-dance, a highly successful affair, was held at the Ansley Golf Club. Initial steps were taken toward the organization of classes. And the best and biggest Homecoming Day in recent years was experienced. All of these activities took a great deal of time and personal effort.

O. K. Sheffield '53 has been appointed chairman of the Greater Atlanta Hospitality Committee with members Cecil Moon '36 and Sam Hirsch, '50. This committee will organize telephone campaigns for all special events and encourage alumni to invite out-of-town friends to homecomings.

In addition to the duties of these committees, the program includes furnishing complete rosters of known alumni to all dues-paid members by next April and continuing efforts toward the early completion of the new field house.

1958-1959 promises to be a full and exciting year for Oglethorpe Alumni. With the support of each alumnus, the association can carry out this program effectively and efficiently.

Mr. Perry could not do all of these things without the solid support of the committee.

Those members of the 1957-58 executive committee elected for the coming year with their current titles are 1st vice-president Steve Schmidt '40, treasurer Betty Villegas '49, and directors Jim Hinson '49 chairman, Cecil Moon '36, Sam Hirsch '50, Marshall Asher '41 and Amaryllis Barnes '39.

A former member of the committee and returning to it after one year is secretary, Tommy Carper '37. Other new members are 2nd vice-president Howard "Nappy" Thranhardt '35, 3rd vice-president O. K. Sheffield '53, and directors William Perkins '29 and Marvin Lawson '58.

Have You Forgotten Something?

Did you know that many corporations and foundations consider the percentage of contributing alumni to determine which colleges they will aid?

If you have not paid your 1958-59 dues, won't you take time now to place Oglethorpe in a more favorable position to receive a large grant? Make your check payable to Oglethorpe University with the notation: "alumni dues." It is tax deductible.

Meet—

WILLIAM L. NUNN

When last seen on May 8, 1958, William L. Nunn '22 was expertly making final arrangements to receive Scandinavian royalty on the University of Minnesota's Minneapolis campus.

Since the State of Minnesota was settled by people from northern European countries, Princess Astrid of Norway and Prince Bertil of Sweden visited the Midwestern State to help celebrate its 100th birthday. Their itinerary included a stop at U M where Mr. Nunn is Director of University Relations, a post he has held since 1945.

Mr. Nunn, born in Lee County, Alabama in 1902 and a graduate of Buford High School in Georgia, graduated from Oglethorpe in 1922 with an A.B. degree in Business Administration. While at Oglethorpe, he was business manager of the Yamacraw and a member of the Thalian Society, Debating Council and Alpha Lambda Tau.

Following a four-year teaching position at Oita Commercial College, Oita, Japan, Mr. Nunn studied at Columbia University and earned his M.A. degree in 1927.

His teaching experiences include two years at the University of Pittsburgh, two years at the School of Commerce of New York University and assistant to professor of economics at the University of Newark from 1929 to 1945, with a leave of absence during WW II.

Mr. Nunn is a district director of the American College Public Relations Assn., and a member of the Public Relations Society of America.

In addition to professional duties, Mr. Nunn has accepted his civic responsibilities in the Minneapolis area. This is attested to by his being a former mayor of the Village of Champlin, Minnesota and board member of the Public Relations Committee of the Minneapolis YMCA and of the Family and Children's Service of Minneapolis.

Oglethorpe University is proud of William Lee Nunn. To meet this man is to know that even greater achievements and honors are in store for him in the future.

Dr. Bohnhorst

Dr. Ben A. Bohnhorst, education professor at Oglethorpe University, was one of the discussion group leaders at the "Focus on Youth" institute sponsored by the Atlanta Conference of Christians and Jews.

Albert Hahnan, O. U. Trustee, At Rest

Albert E. Hahnan, trustee of Oglethorpe University and founder and president of the Tractor and Machinery Company, died May 18, 1958, in Atlanta.

Mr. Hahnan was an active worker with the Boy Scouts, having been connected with that organization since 1931. He was a member at large of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, a member of the executive board of the Atlanta Area Council and honorary member of the Honolulu Council of Boy Scouts. He was vice-president of the American Humanities Foundation and a former member of the board of trustees of Presbyterian College.

Surviving are his wife; a sister, Mrs. Carl Bartmann, N. Y.; and a brother, Harold Hahnan, of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

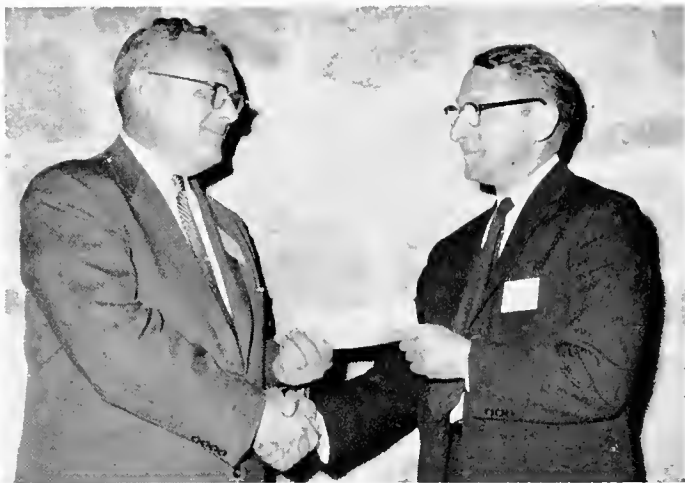

Former Art Teacher, Navy Art Editor

Mr. James Springer, former Art Instructor during 1938-1942, is now the Art Director of the Navy Publication "Naval Aviation News".

Mrs. M. D. Collins Dies

Mrs. Mary Collins, 71, died June 24. She was the wife of Dr. M. D. Collins '31 emeritus state superintendent of schools and member of the Board of Trustees of Oglethorpe University.

She was a graduate of Palmetto High School and attended old Cox College in College Park and Shorter College in Rome. She was a member of the Second College Park Baptist Church, the DAR, the Rebeccas and the UDC.

Services were held at Spring Hill and burial took place in Westview Cemetery with Dr. Harry V. Smith and Dr. William Allison '33 officiating.

Surviving besides Dr. Collins are a sister, Miss Margaret Cochran, Atlanta; brother, Berry Cochran, Palmetto; niece, Mrs. Jean Cochran Van Wheeler, Hopewell, N. J.; and a nephew, Jack Cochran, Gainesville, Georgia.

YUM-M-M-M

A few weeks of planning . . . several days of meticulous preparation . . . hours spent setting up tables and chairs and arranging beautiful centerpieces . . . and BANG! A quarter ton of food and beverages are consumed in 100 minutes!

This is the story of the Homecoming Day meal; the most thoroughly enjoyed dinner in Oglethorpe history.

The recipients? The more than 300 alumni and guests who attended Homecoming Day. The Host? Oglethorpe University. The person on whose shoulders fell this superhuman task? Mrs. Martha Ann de l'Etoile, who uses her artistic genius admirably to supplement well her duties as Oglethorpe's food manager.

The excellent preparation and tremendous quantity of food served, as well as the attractive decorations was an unexpected but delightful surprise to all in attendance.

Many alumni have expressed a wish to relive those 100 minutes. Perhaps they can if they will lean back in easy chairs, close their eyes, relax and reminisce after they read the following menu of foods served and eaten.

Roast turkey, 70 lbs.; roast beef, 50 lbs.; ham, 40 lbs.; shrimp, 25 lbs.; tuna fish, 15 lbs.; chicken livers, 35 lbs.; fried chicken, 70 lbs.; baked beans, 6 gals.; Iranian casserole, 4 gals.; cole slaw, 5 gals.; potato salad, 100 lbs.; stuffed eggs, 10 dz.; celery, 1/2 crate; radishes, 4 lbs.; olives, 2 lbs.; Waldorf salad, 5 gals.; cranberry sauce, 4 gals.; curried fruit, 5 gals.; strawberries, 5 gals.; layer cakes, 7; hard rolls, 25 doz.; iced tea, 10 gals.; coffee, 15 gals.

FUN WITH SCIENCE

Roy Goslin, professor of physics at Oglethorpe, conducted the second annual Fun With Science program at the Brookhaven Public Library during June and July.

Mr. Goslin, member of the Brookhaven Library Board, has offered this type of program intermittently for the past several years. It proved so popular with youngsters from 10 to 15 years old, that a formally organized class was begun during the 1957 summer vacation period.

Participation is on a voluntary basis so enrollment varies considerably from week to week, but some 30 to 85 students are in attendance each class period. The subject matter covers many phases of the science field including geology, meteorology, atomic physics, botany and chemistry.

According to Mr. Goslin, the Fun With Science classes have started many boys and girls toward scientific collections, and a sizeable proportion of his former students have taken an active part in the Georgia high schools science fairs.

THE JOB MART

Your alumni executive committee feels that The Flying Petrel could perform a valuable service for you with the addition of the Job Mart, a feature in which employers and job-seekers can be brought together.

On a trial basis, job specifications and personal qualifications will be printed in the Job Mart section of The Petrel. No charge will be made for this service. Please restrict applications to 50 words or less.

STEVE SCHMIDT '40 LEADS BOOSTER CLUB IN 1958-1959

Steve Schmidt '40 has been elected president of the Oglethorpe Athletic Booster Club. Mr. Schmidt, the 1956-57 OABC first vice-president, has been a key member during the organization's initial year of existence, and a great deal of its effectiveness can be traced directly to his efforts. He succeeds Ed Copeland '36 who is now chairman of the OABC Board of Directors.

Other officers for the 1958-59 term are first vice-president, Cecil Moon '36, second vice-president, Jim Hinson '49 and secretary-treasurer, Jim "Mac" Henderson '52.

Directors are Ralph King '39, George Kolowich '43, Bob Oliver '57 and William Perkins '29.

The OABC executive committee has met twice since Homecoming Day with a third meeting scheduled for the first Tuesday in August.

Arrangements are being made for a Booster Club banquet in September in honor of Garland Pinholster, "Georgia Coach of the Year". Members will have an opportunity at that time to meet the 1958-59 edition of the Stormy Petrel hoopsters.

Preparations are also underway for the Fall Homecoming which will be held sometime in December in conjunction with a home basketball game.

The committee has pledged to stay behind the field house construction efforts and to aid in every way it can to bring the structure to completion as early as possible.

The committee has expressed a desire for ideas concerning the several functions of the OABC. If you have a good one that will improve any phase of the Booster Club program, send it to Steve Schmidt, 2002 Fisher Trail, NE, Atlanta 6, Georgia.

Patelli and Holderness New Life Members

Mrs. Enri Patelli '34 and Sidney Holderness '20 have been presented with lifetime membership cards.

Mrs. Patelli travelled some 900 miles from Elmhurst, N. Y. to attend Homecoming to become the Day's long-distance champion. Her closest competitors were Harry Bannister '27 who lives in Dundee, Illinois, Liz Mathieu '55 from Miami, Fla. and Cmdr. Frank Cauthen '38 from New Orleans, La. Mr. Bannister brought his son, Harwell, as a guest and Mrs. Cauthen accompanied her husband.

Mr. Holderness won his card for being the alumnus-in-attendance of the earliest class represented at Homecoming. Mrs. Holderness, the former Elizabeth Werner '29, joined him in the Day's activities.

Are YOU Talking About Oglethorpe?

Even though applications for admission to Oglethorpe have increased more than 30% per year for the past several years, our enrollment has remained fairly constant—between 200 and 300 students.

The primary reason for this is that both the admissions and academic policies have been strengthened.

As you know, we will enlarge the enrollment to some 500 students within the next few years. However, this will not be done at the expense of our academic program, which is stronger today than at any other time in Oglethorpe's history.

In order to obtain this student increase, the Trustees and Administration have initiated many activities that will aid in arriving at our goal with sureness and speed.

Mike Murphey '54 travels extensively to tell the Oglethorpe story to high school and junior college students, their parents, and their principals and counsellors. He is supplemented by an increasing amount of publicity, and better designed literature, including pictures, that appeals to the high school student.

We have found that the most effective way to interest students in Oglethorpe is through personal contact. For this reason, we have asked our students to visit their high schools and talk to their friends about Oglethorpe. The results have been extremely gratifying.

If each of our 5,000 alumni talks to one good high school student or to their parents, Oglethorpe would have to expand to our proposed limit almost immediately. Alumni are potentially the greatest public relations force Oglethorpe has. A few words from you could direct an able student to your alma mater, and you will receive the satisfaction of knowing that he will get one of the finest educations in the nation.

If you have talked to anyone about entering Oglethorpe, or if you know of someone who is the Oglethorpe calibre of student, drop a note to Mike. Give him the student's name, address, telephone number and high school. Mike will do the rest.

This is the greatest contribution an alumnus can make to his alma mater and one that everyone can give. Make it a point today to talk to someone about Oglethorpe.

Mr. Coulborn, June 1958 Commencement Speaker

W. A. L. Coulborn, professor of economics at Oglethorpe, gave the commencement address at the 81st graduation service of the University on June 8, 1958.

Coulborn said, "The training derived from formal education is far more important than the detail of any studies". He added, "Experiences from campus life are valuable memories to take into the uncertainties of the future."

Coulborn pointed out that "the future could be a time in which mankind might exterminate itself," and affirmed, "that steady courage would be desired in the future." In conclusion, he said that "personal conduct rooted in human goodness is the real basis of civilized society."

Dr. Paul James, Director of Southern Baptist Work in Greater New York and Pastor of the Manhattan Baptist Church of New York City, delivered the baccalaureate sermon.

Marvin Lawson, president of the senior class, presented the senior gift to Dr. Agnew, a microfilm of the 1956 editions of the New York Times.

The Yamacraw was dedicated to Garland F. Pinholster, Athletic Director and Georgia "Coach of the Year".

Graduating with honors were: Albert Sheppard and Evelyn Patricia Baker, Summa cum laude, Ernest R. Stone and Ann Carolyn Klein, Magna cum laude, Catherine Long Leonard, Mary Anne Sharp and Anne McCallum, cum laude.

Commissioned as 2nd Lieutenants in the Marine Corps were Ted D. Bayley and John Emil Harms.

The Duchess Club award was presented to Martha Laird, the Boar's Head award: Robert D. Martin, the Sally Hull Weltner award: Evelyn Patricia Baker, Faculty Scholarship award and LeConte Society award: Albert Sheppard, the Benjamin N. Parker Law award: Marc S. Weinberg, the David Hesse Memorial award: Jimmie R. Clower, the Philip Weltner Citizenship award: Linda Roebuck Hoffman, and the James Edward Oglethorpe awards for merit: Ted D. Bayley and Ila Ann Varelmann.

Receiving the Bachelor of Arts degrees were: Theodore Dwight Bayley, Jr., Shirley Benefiel, Hava Bittenwieser Bitan, Lawrence Lee Boyers, Jimmie Rodrick Clower, Peggy O'Neal Compton, Albert Lee Dismer, Clinton L. Fincher, Ina Dorothy Foster, William Royall Foster, Christina Rice Freeman, Arley M. Gardner, John Emil Harms, Harold Bruce Hauck, Russell H. Haynie, John Franklin Johnson, Jr., Ann Coody Jones, Alice Katherine Kincaid, Ann Carolyn Klein, Jack C. Lane, Marvin William Lawson, Catherine Long Leonard, Ann C. McCallum, Anne Genevieve McGeady, John Alan Moore, Jay Camden Plymale, Charles Floyd Scott, Mary Anne Sharp, Francis Frederick Shipton, Annette Waldrop Smith, Eddie Starnes, Ila Ann Varelmann, Eva Jewell Williams, Hines L. Wommack, and Rosalie Brookshaw Young.

Bachelor of Science degrees were presented to: Alfred Eugene Coker, Robert Leon Garbutt, Jr., Edward Leon Millikan, Albert P. Sheppard and Ernest R. Stone.

Evelyn Patricia Baker received a B. S. in Medical Technology and B. S. degrees in Education went to: Mary Anna Butler, Lois Lacy Cloud, Margaret Greer Morris, Emily George Owings and Mamie Hallman Ross.

MRS. MYRTLE DAVIS ON $64,000 QUESTION

Mrs. E. Roy (Myrtle H.) Davis '45 gained national recognition as a contestant on "The $64,000 Question" television program. She answered all of her questions correctly until Sunday night, June 15 when she missed a tough one. Mrs. Davis' winnings amount to $24,000. Her opponent also missed the question, so both contestants were administered a written test, compiled by Norman Vincent Peale and Bergen Evans, to determine which would represent the United States in the International Bible Competition. Mrs. Davis came through with flying colors.

She will leave New York on August 4 for Israel where the competition, scheduled for August 19, will take place. Contestants from all over the world will tour the Holy Land before the contest begins.

OGLETHORPE'S SUMMER PROGRAM BROADENED

Oglethorpe University's summer program encompasses several kinds of education. College preparatory courses, brush-up study for teachers, courses of regular study and a seminar course for college graduates are being offered in the two sessions of summer school.

The college prep courses are new additions to the University's program and include courses for high school graduates wishing to improve their English composition and mathematics. The courses are not offered for college credit but are valuable to students entering college and insure adequate training in these two subjects which college officials feel are vital.

Also added to the summer offerings are two courses for teachers who want to improve their knowledge of mathematics and science, Basic Mathematics and Fundamentals of Physics.

The Alumni Humanities Seminar is being offered by Dr. Stanley Daugert. It is a most enjoyable way to continue one's education and to gain an insight into the myriad problems affecting man and mankind.

The Family Tradition

Oglethorpe alumni play an important role in the growth of the University in various ways. A glance at the Fall, '59 Oglethorpe acceptance list shows that many relatives of alumni are enrolling at the University.

To date, Dwight L. Bayley, Jacksonville, Florida, brother of Ted Bayley '58 president of the student body last year, has been accepted and will enter Oglethorpe next fall. Frances L. Ivey, daughter of Mrs. Frances N. Ivey '54, College Park, Georgia, will follow in her mother's footsteps. Kathryn Klein is the sister of Ann Klein '58 and Francine Klein '60. Frederick C. Lubs, of Savannah, Georgia, is a cousin to Sam Edelman '57, Betty F. Webb, Atlanta, succeeds her mother, Frances Warlich Webb '27 and her aunt, Mildred Warlich Merrie '23, and Patricia Hinson is Jim and Dot Hinson's '49 sister and sister-in-law respectively.

Oglethorpe is becoming a family tradition.
